A LAD named J. H. Sheppard was fined ten dollars and costs by Judge Lowe, yesterday morning, for stealing three loaves of bread from a market wagon in Fifth-street Market, last Tuesday night.

THE Coroner held an inquest on Monday evening over the body of an unknown man, who was found in the yard in the rear of a doggery on Race street, near Cherry alley. A verdict was rendered of death by intem-

NEW COUNTERPEIT .- We were shown yesterday by the editor of White's Counterfeit Bank Note Detector, a new counterfeit three on the Southern Bank of Kentucky, which is well calculated to deceive. The features of the girl on the left of the vignette are somewhat distorted, otherwise it is quite similar to the genuine. Look out for them.

A FEMALE COUNTERFEIT DEALER .- A WOMEN named Amanda Lindsay was before the Police Court, yesterday, on two charges of passing counterfeit money. In the first case, Mrs. Anna Ray, who keeps a dry-good store on the corner of Western Row and Perry streets, testified that about two weeks ago, Mrs. Lindsay came into her store and purchased a shawl, handing a $10 bill in payment, and from which she subsequently received four dollars and a half in change. The bill afterwards proved to be a counterfeit on the Farmers' Bank of Kentucky. In the other case, the same woman purchased a bonnet from Mrs. E. K. Coffin, on Western Row, near Ninth, and received in change five dollars and seventy-five cents. Subsequent to the passage of these bills the officors went to a house in Storrs Township, kept by a man named Thompson, and where Mrs. Lindsay and her husband were living. When the officers went to this house they found no body there but Mrs. Lindsay and Mrs. Thompson. The former they took into custody, and she at once admitted that she had passed the money, and said that she had been compelled to do so by her husband. In scarching the house they found ninety-one dollars in counterfeit money, secreted in the cellar. Mrs. Lindsay was committed to await a hearing before the Court of Common Pleas.

A New Confidence Game .- Monday afternoon a gentleman from the rural districts was robbed of a hundred dollars under the following circumstances: He was busily engaged in watching some freight, of which he was the owner, going on board of one of the steamers at the landing. While thus occupied, he was accosted by an individual who told him he was going as a passenger on the same boat, and was glad to make his acquaintance. During the conversation, the countryman told his new friend that he was obliged to go up into town to make some new purchases. The individual, by a remarkable coincidence, was going in the same direction, and for the same purpose. They started together, and when they had arrived at the corner of Fifth and Walnut the countryman's friend suddenly stopped, and said he must return to the boat, as he had forgotten his pocket-book, and he had to pay some one in that very neighborhood thirty dollars. The countryman, in order to save his friend the necessity of so long a walk, offered to lend him the money, and, as he had no change, handed him a $100 bill. The man took the money, and said he would go up stairs and get it changed. He then started up the stairs at the south-east corner of Fifth and Walnut, and disappeared. The countryman waited for him a reasonable time, but he did not come back, and then started in search of him, but he could nowhere be found; and it gradually dawned upon the mind of the verdant individual that he had been taken in and done for.

Another Successful Forgery-A Third Street Banker Relieved of $3,000.

Forgery seems to have become an epidemic in this city within the past week. Another forgery, and to the amount of three thousand dollars, was committed yesterday, the banking house of J. L. Mowry, No. 31 West Third

About noon, a lad, described as having been dressed in dark clothing, and with dark hair and eyes, deposited a check drawn on Fallis. Brown & Co., in favor of S. N. Pike, for $3,000. to the credit of George C. Sledge. The check was signed S. H. Wood & Co., and endorsed "S. N. Pike." Shortly after a man presented at the counter a check for three thousand dollars, purporting to have been drawn by George C. Sledge in favor of S. N. Baker. The check was honored, the teller knowing that a deposit of the sum mentioned had been made to the credit of Mr. Sledge, a short time previous. Toward the close of bank hours the check deposited was sent over to Fallis, Brown & Co. for collection, when it was discovered that that firm had no such depositor as S. H. Wood, and that the check was fraudulent, the endorsement "S. N. Pike" being forged. Mr. Sledge was then sent for, and pronounced the other check also to be a forgery. Upon further investigation it was discovered that during the absence of Mr. Sledge, on change, his office had been broken open, and a blank check abstracted from his check book. Suspicion points to certain parties, but until that suspicion beproper to publish names.

GEORGE MULHOLLAND and wife, colored, and Mary Walker, who were arrested on a charge of having in their possession counterfeit and spurious bills on the Farmer's Bank of New Haven, Forest City Bank, and Merchant's Bank at Salem, had an examination before the Police Court yesterday, and were held each in bonds of $250, for their appearance before the Court of Common Pleas. They accounted for the possession of the money by stating that Mrs. Mulholland found it in an oyster can in an untenanted house on Fifth street, between Vine and Race, formerly occupied as a house of ill-fame. She says that herself and her husband were employed to clean the house, and found there a lot of oyster cans, which they took home. In one of those cans Mrs. Walker found the money, and none of them being able to read, they did not know whether it was good or not. Their story seems a plausible one, but the Judge thought the case had better go before the grand jury.

We employ only the complement of hands necessary for the press. Nominally "the ngine takes care of itself!" The saving to our pocket of "Calorie" over steam is three dollars per day. WELL LAID ON .- Quite an excitement was created at the Gibson House, yesterday morning, in consequence of an excited female cowhiding George H. Johnston, a vender of newspapers and periodicals, in front of that establishment. The woman alleges that Johnston had been maligning her in the falsest manner, and had said much to injure her fair name and fame. If this be true, he deserved every blow he received. He received several blows about the face and head, and every stroke was well laid on.

Chill Fover, Ague, Rheumatism, and all Sores and Pains.

I propose to check and effectually dissipate more ache and pain, and to accomplish nearer and more perfect equilibrium of all the circulating fluids in the human system, than can be effected by any other, or all other, methods of medical aid in the same space of time, the masses themselves being judges.

I do not propose to cure aversar diseases, but all such as are curable by any combination of medical applicances. My Electric Oil operates on chemical and electric principles, and is, therefore, applicable to the cure or natural restoration of any organic derangement, arising from an improper circulation of Nervovital fluid.

I want the masses to join in this matter—the well as the sick—because if these things are so, all are alike interested.

N. B. Please inform me of any case of failure to cure, in from half an hour to three weeks, as I wish to cure, or charge nothing. Depot, Philadelphia.
